

Danny Duncan, Off Road Dad, has been married to Judith for 45 years. They have five children: Kevolyn, Jonal, Loren, Leonard, Angela; and 13 grandchildren: Kirsten, Allen II, Danielle, Julianna, Danny Ray, Dannielle, Shayle, Tristan, Nathan, Britney, Joseph, Noah and Selena.

Danny has worked in the motorcycle and ATV industry for over 50 years. He was the founder of Duncan Racing International in 1977 (under the name of Danny's Machine Works) and has done work for top riders all over the world; namely Rick Johnson, Marty Hart, Doug Eichner, Brian Fuller and Travis Spader.

Danny has been instrumental in working in Duncan Racing's Engine and R&D departments to help the company become and sustain itself as the premiere performance ATV company in the world; winning over 100 ATV Championships and over a thousand races worldwide.

Says son Loren (president and current owner of Duncan racing International)

"My father has been a fantastic influence on me throughout my life. From my youth in athletics through adulthood in my business life my father has always been there to do what ever he could to help. The things he has taught myself and many others about motorcycles and ATV's are simply amazing. That one man can know so much is simply mind boggling. I believe he has probably done work for close to 100,000 different people over the last 50 years. Today at 72 years old he is still the most efficient, conscientious worker in the shop. All of his success in the off-road world pales in comparison to his success as a father. Danny has set a tremendous example as a man how to conduct yourself, raise your children and treat women. If I do half the job my father has done I will consider it a success."

Kevi White (Daughter):

"My dad will always stop what he is doing for a question, help or a hug."

Leonard (Son)

"My dad does not say much-but when he does you better listen because it's something important."
